Introduction

The political analyst asked why the 45th US President had nothing to say against his cohorts that had testified against him in his election fraud conspiracy trial (AKA, the hush money trial). Being the type of person he is (responding with harsh words against anyone who harms or speaks against him), the quick answer to the question was, Whatever these two know must be much worse than what has come out in this falsified business records/election fraud conspiracy trial.

The testimony of these witnesses during the recent trial was probably the most damaging to the 45th US President. And yet, he has shown no restraint in witness- and jury- tampering and intimidation in relation to the former porn star and his former attorney/fixer, as well as Court officials, their staff, and families, those in a position to put the 45th US President in prison.

And I said to myself, They know about the master conspiracy. Master conspiracy, I silently asked, wondering, Where did that come from?

Think about it, Holly, I thought, Do you honestly believe the catch-and-kill conspiracy hatched in the August 2015 Trump Tower meeting, involving the 45th US President, et al. was the “point” of all the coverup effort? Yes, it was just indeed legally adjudicated to be a conspiracy to commit election fraud.

The point was to get him elected President of the United States, right? Then what?

What if the “hush money” payment was a corollary to another over-arching agreement or covenant. He was already running to become the 45th US President at the time of this meeting, so there was some original agreement or covenant in place to even make that happen. The point of the “hush money payment” was to put out a fire that could extinguish election hopes; and the catch-and-kill conspiracy was a plan to hedge against future threats and keep the over-arching agreement from getting derailed.

So, there’s some master conspiracy that no one knows about? I asked, At least, there’s not been any reporting to this effect.

The master conspiracy is to overthrow the will of God almighty, I thought, finally understanding the significance of Genesis 9:27, and Daniel 2:44-45. The master conspiracy is to thwart the end of the worldwide domination of Japheth (i.e., Gentile world rule), that is, the perpetual subjugation of his brothers, Shem and Ham. The attempt to overthrow the will of God is tantamount to destroying the seat of government or the sanctuary (or justice) and thereby, our nation, that proudly sits atop the system of laws; similar to how the mercy seat sat atop the ark of the covenant or testimony (or the Law). The biblical scriptures were starting to make a kind of sense, as if being reordered in my mind.

The election of someone with the 45th US President's temperament would be helpful to the goal of a "perpetual" time of the Gentiles, I thought. This has the fingerprints of the Russian President all over it.

"Europe has investigated the ascendancy of far-right leaders, and their association with Russian money. Has US law enforcement been as diligent?"

Probably, in the last week or so, I thought cynically, with a perspective of American history and being an African-American. A good deal of law enforcement at all levels (many of whom are from among the poor of sons of Japheth) view enforcement of the law as being against the children of Ham, who they deem to be the enemy to Gentile civilization.

They have focused over much on the surface for a very long time, refusing to go further than skin-deep, and truly dispense justice among their own kind. Now, they are too late – corruption has run amok. And now, law enforcement finds itself under attack from its own kind. Witness: the January 6th capital insurrection and attack on law enforcement; and the Project 2025 documented plan to overthrow the justice department.

Daniel described that final Gentile power as a little horn¹. Perhaps, due to its youth and immaturity, I thought.

You know, I asked myself, that August 2015 date sounds very familiar. Later, when checking my notes, I had written about August 2016, in 2021, when proposing the date of the beginning of the 70th week by counting backwards from the establishment of the abomination of desolation, February 5, 2020.

Well, I thought in some disappointment, that screws up my whole theory. And, if there's some master conspiracy... that would go even further back, timewise... That really, really screws up my whole 70th week proposal!

Holly, remember the approach you took in teaching Daniel 9:24-27²?

Many cities or nations, of that time, had their own calendars. So, trying to make the existing calendar work cannot and will not be accurate. Instead, look at the markers that are being called out in the scripture.

1. Rebuilding the temple in Jerusalem,
2. Messiah being cut off,
3. Establishment of the abomination of desolation in the middle of the 70th week.

Don't try to make the calendar, as understood now, try to fit this prophecy.

There is another marker – “...confirm a covenant with many for a week...” But such a marker may not be seen by all, especially if it's a conspiracy.

The Master Conspiracy

Daniel 9:27 describes a covenant that will be made prior to the commencement of the final week of the 70 weeks prophecy, outlined in the book of Daniel, “...he shall confirm a covenant with many for a week...”

As noted in the introduction, the “master conspiracy” is the plan to overthrow the will of God, which is the eventual end of Gentile power worldwide.

The time of the Gentiles was kicked off by a dream that God had given to the Babylonian king, Nebuchadnezzar, that he couldn't understand, no one could understand it, not even the Chaldeans (a tribe of visionaries and interpreters of dreams in the royal court), because Nebuchadnezzar couldn't remember it, and hence, the lives of all the wisemen in Babylon, including Daniel and his cohorts, were at risk!

Daniel 2:37-45 is the interpretation of that dream, explained by Daniel, that God almighty was conferring dominion in the earth upon Nebuchadnezzar, which was the beginning of the time of the Gentiles.

The prophecy proceeds to use metals to describe the subsequent Gentile powers that will succeed the Babylonian kingdom. Over the timeline, with each succeeding power, the quality of metal decreases, down to the mixture of clay and iron in the toes. God is quite clear in describing the future of Gentile dominion: “And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever.

“Forasmuch as thou sawest that the stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure.”³

The time of the Gentiles, though enlarged, is finite.⁴

There is a section of scripture (that the Scofield King James Version⁵ of the Bible describes as “Noah’s sin”) in which the time of the Gentiles is extended. Noah was humiliated to learn that all his awesomeness had been discovered by his sons, when he awoke from his drunken slumber, and his naked body had been covered with a garment. Noah was specifically angry with Canaan (Ham’s first born), knowing that he had gone blabbing about the family leader’s drunken state of deshabelle, and he spoke a prophecy over his sons, cursing Canaan and consigning him to servitude to his brothers, Shem and Japheth.

Understanding these two prophecies in which the time of the Gentiles was introduced and that time defined, Daniel 9:24-27 provides the believer – those who are looking – a timeline of the events that will be witnessed at the end of the time of the Gentiles. God would not allow Noah’s curse on Canaan (and thereby Ham) to stand – the time of Japheth would not be infinite, nor would the servitude of Ham be perpetual. That is not justice.

Yet, the master conspiracy is just that, a plan and covenant among many to make the Gentile time of rule infinite, and the servitude of Ham, perpetual.

Please note that Daniel 9:24-27 is not describing the end of the world, only the end of the time of the Gentiles. The disingenuous conflate the two, in their attempt to confuse people. It is noteworthy that the first tool the disingenuous use to create confusion is to “...cast the truth to the ground...”⁶ and make a practice of doing so. The second tool, fear, will only work so long at maintaining confusion – eventually people get a clue.⁷

So, what are the disingenuous trying to accomplish in that window of time? A thief comes to steal, kill, and destroy⁸, those that are disingenuous do not come honestly, they are thieves, come to take something from “the people”. If a thief comes to steal, kill, and destroy, then what belongs to “the people” is valuable; it is alive; it is just and right. It is a gift from God!

Genesis 1:26 says the children of Adam – “the people” – have dominion over the earth.

Imagine the whole earth as a single nation, the United States of America. The people have citizenship in a nation that has a system of justice that is not synonymous with monarchy. The people have a recourse to get justice, should they suffer an offense. The people, as citizens of that nation, have the authority to support themselves and their families, which is how Adam takes dominion in the earth⁹.

The people have power, position, and authority with God almighty. They have a crown! What do thieves have? Surely not power, position, and authority with God¹⁰ because they are disingenuous, they lie!

Daniel 9:26 describes how some of the people become the “... people of the prince that shall come...” and how they “shall destroy the city and the sanctuary...” and Daniel 9:27 says that that “...prince that shall come...” will confirm a covenant with many for a week. The people of the prince that shall come – the many – will be in alignment with the prince’s attitude and intent, which is to bring destruction upon the nation and its seat of government.

While the master conspiracy is an attempt to overthrow the prophesied end of Gentile world rule, I submit that this was manifested in a covenant the 45th US President made with many (62,980,000 voters¹¹, to be exact), to be the face of the rebellion, or to overturn the government or “deconstruct” the administrative state¹², in the United States of America – the very seat of democratic government for the final Gentile power. The 45th US President’s words and actions found affinity in the hearts of the many, but not the majority¹³.

So recall, “the people” have something that the thieves want to steal (kill, if they can’t steal it; destroy, if they can’t kill it):

1. The people have citizenship in a nation that has a system of justice that is not synonymous with monarchy.

The 45th US President (whose own sojourn in the US began with a grandfather who bought a one-way ticket to the US, dodging the draft in Germany in 1885¹⁴), along with his many, seek to proscribe and nullify the citizenship of others within the US.

2. The people have a recourse to justice, should they ever suffer an offense.

The 45th US President, along with his many, corruptly seek to cut off from that justice system those seeking asylum; those attempting to vote (i.e., choose who rules over them); those attempting, including those even helping, to redress inequities; those attempting to enfranchise their rights (including the right to bodily autonomy) as full citizens of that nation.

3. The people, as citizens of the nation, have the authority or right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

The 45th US President, along with his many, seek to dictate and undermine justice by enforcing a minority-rule government upon the majority. This is not democracy.

The people of the prince that shall come agree with the thoughts and desires of the prince that shall come, and hence, these 62,980,000 supporters are representative of those who feel they have no skin in the game of a healthy, functioning, successful nation and government. These ones will be thieves in:

- An electoral college system that dilutes the will of the citizens in a democracy.
- An executive system who’s motives are corrupt.
- A legislative system that advances corrupt laws, policies, and practices.
- A judicial system that “throws out” the will of the citizens in a democracy.
- An education system that teaches lies to its citizens in a democracy.
- A religious system that closes its eyes and covers its ears to the transgressions being committed against every citizen, of every nation.
- A media system that ignores and suppresses and covers its mouth at the injustice committed against the citizens in a democracy.

¹⁴ <https://www.history.com/news/donald-trump-father-mother-ancestry>

By Holly Effiom

- An economic system that seeks to take for itself all it can get, without caring for the people, citizens of the democracy, who are its engine.
- Enemies, foreign and domestic, who have common cause with thieves.
- A hijacked government that leaves its citizens a prey to every enemy¹⁵.

Daniel 11:30 describes a willful king who will “...have indignation against the holy covenant... he shall even return, and have intelligence with them that forsake the holy covenant...” It is noteworthy that the willful king hates righteousness or justice himself, and will conspire with those who turn their backs on justice, i.e., traitors to justice. These traitors who have had access to and have enjoyed the blessings of justice, are the first to break faith, not those who have begged for and have been denied justice for generations, centuries.

The master conspiracy involves many, according to the prophecy, not just the sorry group of people at the August 2015 Trump Tower meeting. The master conspirators, who bring desolations upon the nation and seat of government, are from every level and group of people that hold any power in the nation. They are traitors.¹⁶

Conclusion

The picture that biblical scripture paints of what has been seen, what is being seen, and what will be seen is explained in this paper, and the antagonists’ motives have been uncovered. What is left to understand?

What could possibly cause some of the people, the “many”, those blessed with so much, to throw their blessing away? What could possibly bring such different groups of people together in one accord, overcoming each other’s moral and social inhibitions, to act with one heart and one mind against one’s own interests, to overthrow one’s own nation? What could possibly do this?

1. Ignorance.

Ignorance, defined as not having knowledge or understanding of a certain thing, carries the connotation of innocence. While it is possible for an ignorant person to be duped or tricked into accepting a policy or making choices against one's own interest, innocence does not apply in the instance of a willfully ignorant person.

Recently, a friend contacted me feeling deeply disappointed to learn that one of his favorite TV and radio pastors sponsored a fund raiser for the 45th US President in Los Angeles the day before. One would have to be living under a rock somewhere to not know about the 45th US President's virulent hatred of Black people. So, for a pastor, in complete contravention of the laws of God¹⁷ (from Who's hand he earns a living), to host an event to raise money to propel a man of the 45th US President's ilk to the position of President of the United States again, would make any claim to innocence on the part of this pastor (by disagreement or by ignorance) moot.

This pastor's heart aligns with the 45th US President's attitude and policies toward thievery and subjugation of people, and he supports the 45th US President's proposed policy actions, including those that are virulently racist. Any so-called ignorance in this case is willful.

2. Self-aggrandizement.

History is rife with stories of those who sold themselves out for the fleeting opportunity to gain position and or power. The Bible tells us the story of king Ahab and Jezebel (1 Kings 21), who used their power and position to steal coveted land from his neighbor.¹⁸ And the story of Judas Iscariot, who sold his own salvation for 30 pieces of silver.¹⁹ And today, the story of the congressman who sold-out his heritage, with a sorry justification of "Jim Crow", in order to gain a position in a possible future administration of a racist 45th US President.²⁰

3. Hatred of one's brothers.

What exactly was "Noah's sin" according the translators of the Scofield KJV Bible? Was it passing out drunk in his own tent, or was it cursing his own son? Would Noah regret his words, and the pain and misery suffered by his children, to this very day?

Who knows?

What is known is that hatred of one's brother has been a dependable and effective tool for creating confusion, distraction, and even death among those tasked with being fruitful and multiplying, and taking dominion in the earth.²¹ Who benefits from confusion, distraction, and death? Thieves. Thieves have used hatred of one's brother as a throughline in each of the examples presented for why some of the people – the many – would act against their own interest, which is taking dominion in the earth.

So, if there is dismay at all the anger and ethnic animus witnessed in the world today, remember your scriptures, and who it describes as benefitting from the chaos, thieves!

Have you wondered why men have been running around like craven animals with guns, slaughtering Black people, trying to provoke a race war? The world is not ending, no matter how loudly the thieves scream otherwise. God's promise is to establish Adam's everlasting kingdom.²² The only thing coming to an end is the time of Gentile world domination, which is the reason for the ethnic animus and what motivates their violence. They don't want to cede power peacefully, and don't have an iota of interest in God's coming kingdom!
